FORMATTING GUIDELINES

(1) You must include an abstract for your paper (max. 200 words).

(2) Endnotes are used rather than footnotes.

(3) Do not put multiple notes at the same place like this:13, 14 If you do, we will add the content of note 14 to the end of note 13, delete the marker for note 14, and renumber the remaining notes.

(4) Indent the first line of all paragraphs that should be indented.

(5) Quotation marks: In general use double quotes. Use single quotes only to replace double quotes that occur within quoted text that is already within double quotes. If you set a quotation off as a block quote, it should not be set in double quotation marks, thus double quotation marks that are part of the quoted material should not be changed.

REFERENCES AND CITATIONS

(1) Number ranges should be inclusive, with only the changing digits repeated for the end of the range: 185–212, but 185–97 and 185–6. Citations to notes are formatted as 182n4 for page 182, footnote 4.

(2) Do not use op cit.”, “loc cit.”, etc. “Ibid.” is acceptable if you are referring to the work cited in the immediately preceding note.

(3) List author names in each citation. Avoid 3-em-dashes or other replacements for the author’s name in multiple citations.

Multiple Works by the Same Author

[NOTE: Entries are ordered by year, oldest to most recent. Multiple entries for the same year are further ordered alphabetically by title and include letters for clarity of citation.

[NOTE: Author’s name is repeated for each entry.]

Citations

Citations should be in the flow of the text. Multiple citations are separated with semicolons.

[NOTE: Citations don’t need to be ordered by year. You may wish to order them by importance.]
